

FINAL MEETINGS OF THE SOCIETIES

Patriotic Organizations All Have Prospect Before Them of Important Work for Next Year.

WOMAN'S CLUB JUNE TEAS AFTERNOON FUNCTIONS

Several Important Weddings of Last Week and Wedding Announcements—Already Prospect of Many and Elegant Autumn Weddings—Travelers Abroad Seem to be Having Only Pleasant Experiences.

Richmond, in spite of some important departures to country homes, continues to present a gay social aspect, and as the time has come for the out-of-door piazza life and luxuriance in window box blooming, the city is at the zenith of its beauty in so far as Nature and humanity are concerned. At the Executive Mansion elegant furnishings are being securely packed away and rooms closed, preparatory to the building being turned over to the workmen and architects who have in charge the erection of the new State dining-room. Mrs. Swanson will, during the worst dismantlement of the mansion, go to her country home, "Eldon," near Chatham, now in all the leafy foliage and blossom of the summer season. As she is closely overlooking all the decorative details in the interior finish of the addition to the mansion, however, her absence will not at any time be prolonged.

The school and college finals are about over, and society that has been enthusiastic in regard to the scholastic triumphs of young men and women begins to feel something as if it is now standing within "some haunted hall deserted," since gay youth has stepped out from the stage and fared forth to its quest in the world's tourney. The Virginia Military Institute, with its irresistible cadets and its soldierly senior class, has the last celebration for Richmond girls who have not gone abroad to enjoy themselves, and Miss Avis Grant will be one of many to participate in the "final" pleasures of this year.

The patriotic societies have, most of them, had their last meetings until the autumn. There is a note of preparation, however, throbbing in the air; for each one of these societies, in looking forward, realizes the importance of next year's work and its responsibilities. The Daughters of the Confederacy, who will complete a great work in 1907, when they unveil the Jefferson Davis Monument, are joint hostesses with Lee Camp in welcoming to the unveiling ceremonial the Confederate Veterans, Sons of Veterans, Confederate Memorial Associations and United Daughters of the Confederacy from all over the South.

The Association for the Preservation of Virginia Antiquities, that has already accomplished so much at Jamestown, has much yet to do before the 13th of next May, when the most important of the annual excursions will take the members of the association to celebrate the three hundredth anniversary of the first permanent English settlement in America.

The Colonial Dames have to look to the erection and completion of the building with which the Jamestown Church foundations will be inclosed, restoring as far as exterior appearance is concerned the outlines of the building in which many of the most important events in American history have transpired.

The Daughters of the American Revolution will be equally as busy, as their building at Jamestown, modeled after the home of Sir Walter Raleigh in England, is already in the hands of the builders. The Daughters have not only undertaken their building, but the furnishing of it, and they are greatly interested in their work.

The board of the Confederate Museum and the other memorial associations are all directing their efforts toward the important happenings of 1907, in which they have vital interests and activities.

June weddings and announcements still make a pleasant stir in Richmond.

Last week was musical with the chiming of wedding bells. Miss Helen Camp's home marriage to the Rev. Carl Stanley Matthews, of Rapidan, Va., was celebrated Tuesday afternoon. The bride was lovely in her wedding gown, and friends were full of good wishes and congratulations for the young couple, who are now spending their honeymoon in the South.

Thursday witnessed several important nuptial events. Watts Chapel at Union Theological Seminary was full to overflowing with the friends of Miss Zaida Durmond English and the Rev. William E. Hill, of Hot Springs, Va., whose wedding took place at 8 o'clock in the evening, the bride and groom, with their attendants having a brilliant reception in the home of the Rev. Dr. and Mrs. Thomas R. English, the parents of the bride.

Friends of Miss Nannie Fitzhugh Lay, whose wedding to Dr. John Wilson Elder was celebrated in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Horace S. Hawes at 6:30 P. M. Thursday, are still lamenting that her future home will be in Albuquerque, New Mexico, even though distances are so little taken into estimate now-a-days. Dr. Elder is a native of Pittsburg, Pa., but is now located in the Southwest.

Of unusual interest to Richmond people is the announcement just made of the engagement of Miss Virginia Randolph Bolling Hoge to the Marquis San Germano, of Rome, Italy. Miss Hoge's father, the Rev. Dr. Peyton Harrison Hoge, of Louisville, Ky., formerly lived in Richmond. So did Mrs. Hoge, who, before her marriage, was Miss Mary Stuart Holladay. Miss Hoge, therefore, belongs doubly to the city and the State, and has an unusually large contingent of relatives and friends here. Her marriage will take place in Louisville next October.

An ante-nuptial entertainment preceded the wedding of Miss Nellie Virginia Fellows to Mr. Charles Everett Wayne, taking place on Thursday evening in the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Fellows, of No. 2621 East Broad Street. The occasion was a very happy one, and many good wishes have followed the young couple to Covington, Ky., where they will reside.

Interesting Meeting.

An interesting meeting of Commonwealth Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, was held Friday afternoon, June 15th, in the home of Mrs. Julius Riddick, No. 2901 Grove Avenue, Mrs. B. L. Purcell, the regent, presiding.

The purpose of the meeting was primarily to discuss and perfect arrangements for the State conference of Daughters, meeting in Richmond next autumn. These arrangements are in the hands of the hospitality and entertainment committees, of which Mrs. D. T. Williams is head, with an able second in the vice-regent, Mrs. M. A. Chambers.

As it is probable that a number of the officers from the national D. A. R. organization will attend the State conference, interest has begun to center in it, apart from the importance it must naturally assume in view of the Daughters' association with Jamestown, and the fact that Mrs. Purcell is chairman of the Jamestown committee.

Another matter discussed at the Friday afternoon chapter meeting, was the furnishing of the D. A. R. building at Jamestown, which will be done by the Virginia chapters. Mrs. Purcell stated that Sycamore Shoals Chapter had already contributed two very handsome chairs and a sofa, and she desired to be used for the drawing-room. The Commonwealth Chapter proposes to furnish a bedroom, of which there will be several in the building, and it is hoped, from present indications, that nothing will be lacking to render the whole appearance harmoniously and gracefully hospitable when the house is thrown open next year.

Delightful Hostess.

Mrs. Riddick proved a delightful chapter hostess. Her home, with its lovely lawn and shade trees, now presents itself in its prettiest summer dress. The interior was equally attractive, and Mrs. Riddick received her guests, gowning in white, and with charming cordiality. Delightful refreshments were served after the business meeting.

Class Recital.

A class recital given by the pupils of Miss Mary Willie Smoot, Friday evening, at the Woman's Club, was one of the most interesting musical events of the season.

The class is composed of girls and boys, ranging in age from eight to eighteen, and from the little tot of eight, who stood to play his number, to the most advanced pupil, demonstrated fine training and a thorough understanding of technique, rhythm and melody.

Miss Virginia Jones took the prize in senior class for practicing the greatest number of hours.

Miss Elizabeth Winn was awarded the prize for proficiency in theory and writing lessons in rhythm and phrase.

For considerable advancement in learning how to teach, especially in theory class, Miss Ida Louise Smoot won the prize. She was Miss Smoot's assistant during the last session.

The rewards for general improvement and faithfulness were given to Misses Grace Gilman, Carrie Rennie, Margaret Harman, Allen Lewis, Howard Danner, Charles Phillips, Howard Murphy and Donald Murphy.

When Miss Ethelyn Tiller played, Jo.

seff's Mini" with so much style and expression, it was easy to guess that she had earned the junior class prize for the greatest number of hours. The expression and tone coloring she gives her playing is wonderful for a twelve-year-old child, and her teacher predicts a great future for her.

Beautiful flowers, which were graciously presented by the ushers, attractive girls and boys, and sweet music, made both pupils and audience a most delightful evening, which was closed with an appropriate address by Dr. Russell Cecil. He mentioned the many advantages of studying music, especially as a mental discipline for both boys and girls, and the beautiful illustrations he drew from the classics in comparing Beethoven with Shakespeare and Wagner with Browning were listened to with marked attention by all, and much enjoyed.

Miss Louise Peyton Jenkins will be maid of honor. Misses Mary Sligh, Betsy and Rebecca Dickerson will be the bridesmaids, and little Miss Margaret Valentine, the ring-bearer.

The groom will be attended by Dr. W. G. Chrisman and Mr. J. H. Irving, of Charlottesville; Messrs. L. Howard Jenkins, C. J. Brown, Chester S. Fensom and John Fensom, of this city.

The bride party will be entertained Tuesday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Jenkins, No. 1015 West Grace Street.

After a Northern wedding tour, Mr. and Mrs. Spitzer will be at home, on Locust Avenue, at Charlottesville, Va.

Latane-Allen.
The wedding of Miss Julia Gatewood Allen, daughter of the late Judge H. C. Allen, of Woodstock, Va., to Henry Allen Latane, of Buchanan, was celebrated at 7 o'clock yesterday morning, in the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. J. M. Allen, the Rev. R. W. H. Darrice, the rector of the bride, officiating.

Hone decorations were in palms, ferns and flowers. The wedding march was rendered by Miss Williams, and Mr. Latane's brother, Dr. R. H. Latane, was best man.

The bride came in with her brother, Mr. George J. Allen, who gave her in marriage. She wore a traveling costume of gray cloth and carried a great bouquet of bride roses.

An ante-nuptial reception was given the bride party Friday evening, June 15th. Bridal gifts, including china, cut-glass and silver, were numerous and handsome. Those from a distance attending the reception and ceremony were: Dr. Peachy Latane, of Winchester; Lieutenant G. B. Gatewood, of West Point, Military Academy; Mrs. Georgia Gatewood and Miss Natalie Gatewood, of Frontburg; Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Kemper, of Warrenton, Va.; Mr. C. B. Allen, of Wytheville, Va.; Dr. H. C. Allen, of Leesville, and Dr. R. H. Latane, of Buchanan.

The bride and groom left immediately after the ceremony for Buchanan, where they will make their future home.

The social position and wide popularity enjoyed by both renders this notice a most interesting one.

Prospective Wedding.
Mr. and Mrs. J. Rice Smith announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Sadie, to Mr. Elliott Bates, Jr., of Spartanburg, S. C. The wedding, which will be a very quiet affair, will occur on the evening of July 11th, at the home of Mr. S. W. Travers, No. 62 West Franklin Street, No. 62.

Miss Tomlinson Entertains.
Miss Cora Tomlinson delightfully entertained a party of tender friends evening at her home, No. 31 East Clay Street. The parlors were beautifully decorated. Music, games and refreshments contributed to the success of a most enjoyable evening.

Among the invited guests were Misses
